

Kubernetes Service:

kubernetes service keeps track of which pods are running on which nodes of the cluster. When user tries to access an pod/microservice application, the service receives the request and does #2 things

- 1. discovery: where the microservice pods are running on the cluster
- 2. loadbalance the request among the instances of the pod/application